Readers That Express Your Vision...

David Colangelo - Creator of SLIMVIEWS

David Colangelo is a visionary. Over the course of three decades his incisive eye for the world around him combined with his discerning ability to turn simple ideas into reality led him to create and introduce slimviews. One year in development, and six months in quality testing and production, slimviews emerged as the unique readers they are today. The slim lightweight design, durability, and fashion-centric colors make these readers a “must have” for any lifestyle. Get ready to express your vision!

“I am inspired by designing products that are unique, practical and stylish,” states Colangelo. “The Oceanic blue fits my lifestyle and are one of my personal favorites. I hope you enjoy them as much as I do - each and every day!”
