

PRESS RELEASE

Barry Adkins stepping down as CEO of Daram Engineers.

December 31st, 2021, Houston, Texas:

Effective Immediately, Karla Adkins will assume the role of CEO at Daram Engineers.

“Karla will utilize her more than twenty years of experience in public education to strengthen our current relationships, expansion into providing services for the public sector, as well as perform the day-to-day executive administration of the company,” said former CEO Barry Adkins.

“I am excited to apply my years of experience in the public sector to help Daram develop, maintain and strengthen the sometimes complex relationships with public entities,” said new CEO Karla Adkins.

Barry will continue to be involved with Daram, focusing on special projects, such as their new advanced oil, gas and mineral rights title search and landman services. Barry will also oversee Daram’s expansion into new regions as well as developing new and expanded services that are complimented by their current engineering, land surveying and new landman services.

“This change in leadership will allow me to focus all of my attention on engineering, business expansion and product development. I am excited to get back to the functional areas of the firm I founded, knowing the day-to-day administration is in the hands of an experienced executive,” Barry said.
