Key Benefits

Your workforce needs access to hazard and chemical information

Cority's SDS management solution allows you to put SDS and critical hazard information at your employee's fingertips. Easily generate out-of-the-box reports, worker safety documents, and labels. Or create your own with the on-demand pre-recorded training modules.

Track and search products by trade name, chemical name, or ingredient and save staff time while ensuring your organization has quick access to important chemical documents when they need them.

Limit risk and protect your employees from undesirable or unsafe chemicals

Extend your SDS management solution to empower your team to make informed decisions about what chemicals to bring on-site and which ingredients to use in your products. Before bringing chemicals onsite, Cority's solution streamlines the evaluation of that chemical and enables easy identification of restricted chemicals. By pre-screening CAS numbers against various regulatory and organization-specific lists, your organization can stay in compliance and eliminate duplicate purchases. A pre-defined but flexible workflow will get your new, efficient chemical approval process implemented as quickly as possible.
