

Time Saving Templates releases Human Resources and Compensation templates.

Excel spreadsheet templates can help streamline processes and challenges that an HR or Compensation professional faces, because it is designed with the formulas already in place and comes with easy to use PDF directions. Each template is designed to save time because everything is set up for them to use right away. Time Saving Templates also provides customization services.

Houston, TX, December 15th, 2017 - Erin Jones from Time Saving Templates is releasing a set of brand new HR and Compensation templates, and each template has been designed in Microsoft Excel, by herself, and includes a PDF with quick directions on how to use it. The new templates will be released on 12/15/17.

Time Saving Templates is known for helping many small businesses and individuals save time when it comes to organizing their data with excel spreadsheets.

Thus, for the first time, Erin has created an entire product line specific for the human resources and compensation processes, which draws on Erin's background of about 10+ years of HR and compensation experience, as well as her certifications: CCP (certified compensation professional) and PHR (professional in human resources), and master's degree in human resource management.

The HR templates will be exclusively sold on the website timesavingtemplates.com

The collection also includes options for customization services, as well as basic excel crash course trainings that are delivered via online videos. A few examples of the product names include:

- Variable Compensation/Bonus plan template
- Annual Merit Increase Matrix and template
- Salary Range Design template
- Employee Turnover Template Report
- Employee Total Rewards Statement System

The templates and customization options range in price from $29 - $300.

Erin is excited to welcome fans to this new collection of templates they have been waiting for. For more information about the HR and Compensation Templates collection or for an interview with Erin Jones, please write to info@timesavingtemplates.com. Media high-res photos available upon request.

About Time Saving Templates - Erin started designing excel templates for others after she was faced with a very real problem. While selling her jewelry on Etsy, she found many other Etsy sellers and small businesses that could benefit from the templates she had created to keep her own jewelry business organized. After serving the Etsy community with many different types of excel templates since 2013, she has also gone on to serve individuals who own or manage rental properties, and she looks forward to continue serving HR and compensation professionals.

www.timesavingtemplates.com

AN EXCEL TEMPLATE DESIGNED WITH YOU IN MIND!