INFLUENTIAL DRONES ACQUIRES BUZZ MY PROPERTY

EMILY HINES JOINS THE LEADERSHIP TEAM AS PARTNER

[Marlton, NJ, June 27] — Influential Drones is proud to announce that Emily Hines has joined Influential Drones as a Partner. Emily was previously a contractor working with Influential under a business-to-business strategic alliance. At the time, Emily owned her own drone company called Buzz My Property. Buzz is female owned and was established by Hines in 2017. As part of the agreement, Influential Drones shall acquire the Buzz My Property brand and its assets.

For years, Buzz has been committed to teaming with realtors and labor contractors who provide services in both the residential and commercial markets. The work Buzz performed has helped to reduce buyer anxiety before purchase as well as showcase the services other companies offer to maintain and increase the value of real estate. It's not uncommon for pool, landscape and arborist companies to call Buzz for an aerial service.

"We already work with corporations and municipal departments. Adding the Buzz brand to our services portfolio rounds out the company" says Steve Davis, a co-founder of Influential Drones.

"Emily brings a wealth of knowledge to the leadership team" says Dave Krause, the other founder. "Her European background, language skills and work ethic combined with her corporate experience will help Influential Drones grow into a global company." Krause continues, "Emily shares our common values, our commitment to safety and our passion for aviation. She is a perfect fit."

"I am excited to join the team as it transitions to its next plateau of unmanned services" says Hines.

In the very near future, Influential Drones will be expanding into a larger office and hire more staff for service work. Influential Drones is more commonly known as an equipment sales, training and subject matter consulting company.

ABOUT EMILY HINES

Born in the Netherlands to a British father and French mother, Emily is fluid in five European languages. She lived in multiple countries before settling into College in the UK where she met her future husband, Chris. Emily's thirst for adventure and passion for Skydiving lead her to travel around the world for a year before securing a job in HR for an international oilfield services company. After obtaining a Master's degree she was transferred to the United States to manage circa 800 employees over several geographical locations. Following the move she obtained her private pilot's (SEL P61) license and spent several years flying to drop zones to continue skydiving. Emily retired her parachute and turned her attention to drones shortly after started a family. Emily's commitment to raising two daughters and her knowledge of flight permits her to be role model to others. She became a US citizen and frequently talks at outreach events to inspire upcoming pilots while helping to address the gender imbalance within the aviation community.
