Alchemy Global Networks LLC partners with Armis to deliver visibility and automation services to combat cyber incidents while improving the ROI for customers across any existing IT solution.

New Partnership Promises to Deliver Breakthrough Visibility and Automation Services

Nicholasville, KY | September 13, 2022 - Leveraging Armis’ asset intelligence and task automation capabilities, Alchemy Global Networks LLC will deliver Alchemy Visibility and Automation Services (“AVA”). AVA is a powerful managed asset visibility and automation capability offered to our customers. AVA ensures every endpoint is accounted for, managed, and secured while driving down operational costs through intelligent task automation.

“For us, the Armis partnership provides a best-of-breed solution to help our customers ensure visibility of every endpoint, which allows them to manage and secure endpoints effectively. Another benefit to this solution is a well-orchestrated unification of their existing systems and cyber management tools,” Donnie Moss, CEO of Alchemy Global Networks LLC, said. “Alchemy Visibility and Automation Service is a new methodology we are employing to fight the cyber incidents of today and the future. With Alchemy Global Networks and Armis, this approach is affordable and provides superior IT asset protection to any organization.”

Through this new partnership, Alchemy Global Networks LLC and Armis, with AVA, will be able to reduce the gaps faced by traditional systems and security management solutions, improving their operational function.

“Achieving and sustaining total asset visibility is optimized when organizations can work with partners who map advanced technologies to business requirements using a proven, repeatable total lifecycle approach,” said David Creed, VP of Worldwide Service Providers, Armis. “Alchemy Global Networks’ methodology has served many public and private sector entities for many years, and Armis is excited to have Alchemy Global Networks as a member of our APEX Managed Partner ecosystem.”

AVA takes a new approach to delivering value to IT services by following a simple principle: every IT service will benefit from superior asset intelligence and/or task automation. AVA provides a unique way to benefit any one or all of a customer’s IT services and improves efficient and effective operations.
