Nuvoda Welcomes New Chief Executive Officer Jonathan Lister

RALEIGH, NC -- July 20, 2020: Nuvoda announced today that Jonathan Lister has been named as the company's new Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Lister brings more than 25 years of experience in the water and wastewater industry, leading major water & environmental companies in strategic planning, growth management, and new business development. He joins Nuvoda after having spent three years with Lonza running their global municipal and industrial water microbial control business. Prior to this position, Mr. Lister held both global and North American leadership roles with SUEZ. He holds a Bachelor of Applied Science (Chemical Engineering) degree from University of Waterloo, Ontario and is a registered Professional Engineer.

"Nuvoda's patented MOB® Process is changing the way in which municipalities and industries treat their wastewater," says Lister. "Low cost retrofits with the MOB® Process increase the existing footprint's throughput significantly and lower operating costs."

"We're excited to bring Jonathan on-board at Nuvoda," says Worth Harris, Chairman of Nuvoda LLC. "With his proven track record of leading and developing businesses within the water and wastewater industry, we look forward to further growing the Nuvoda business successfully both in North America and globally."
