INCUBAKD To Welcome Investors To DTLA
Collaborative Campus During Networking Event

Los Angeles (Wed., August 3, 2022): INCUBAKD Collaborative Cannabis Campus will officially open its downtown Los Angeles doors on Saturday, Aug. 13. La-La Land's newest cannabis sanctum, devoted to developing strategic partnerships and training programs in the cannabis space and more recently Web3, is having an extended conversation and networking at the summer Cannabis Investing Forum, CIF, starting at 10 a.m., at 220 W 21st St., Downtown, Los Angeles, Calif.

"These are exciting times as cannabis and Web3 collide," said Ralph Schulke, Co-Founder and Chief Business Development Officer of INCUBAKD. "Our team has figured out how to mesh emerging industries to band together and create sustainable solutions for business development of every type while intertwining it strategically with cannabis and Web3 projects. During CIF there is so much opportunity for collaborative networking, brainstorming and innovative collaborations."

The CIF at INCUBAKD Collaborative Cannabis Campus features industry professionals and investors currently leading the development and empowerment of the cannabis space. The "hybrid-in-person" event will also include discussions featuring industry leaders including Schulke and INCUBAKD's CEO Risa Rosas.

"Cannabis business development is in a critical phase in Los Angeles," Rosas said. "By bringing cannapreneurs together we have a unique opportunity to not only diversify our industry, but to also help creative minds develop their businesses further."

INCUBAKD and CIF are providing free registration for the first 200 industry professionals to CIF Conference and Networking Party. Beyond the first round of tickets, there is also an All Access Pass at $49 and VIP ticket available for $99 that features an exclusive gift bag and other goodies.
