

ZeptoMetrix® awarded In Vitro Diagnostic Regulation (IVDR) Certification

Buffalo, NY, October 3, 2023 — ZeptoMetrix® is pleased to announce it has been awarded an IVDR Quality Management System certificate from British Standards Institution BSI, NB 2797, one of the notified bodies under the new EU In Vitro Diagnostics Regulation (IVDR). This certificate applies to the majority of the current portfolio of CE marked ZeptoMetrix NATtrol™ quality control products that are the industry’s preferred brand for molecular diagnostic testing and are supplied ready-to-use as independent third-party quality control materials. With this significant certification step completed, ZeptoMetrix will focus on the implementation of updated product labelling over the next several months.

“ZeptoMetrix is delighted with our smooth and efficient transition to IVDR” commented Glenn Harrall, Global Vice President of Quality, ZeptoMetrix. “This transition reflects ZeptoMetrix continuous investments in quality programs, regulatory compliance and demonstrates our ongoing quality commitment to our partners and customers”.

“Achieving this certification milestone is further demonstration of ZeptoMetrix commitment to supporting European clinical laboratories with reliable, innovative quality controls.” said Evangeline Gonzalez, President, ZeptoMetrix.
