

About Red Ventures

Over the last 20 years, Red Ventures has built a platform of businesses, trusted brands, proprietary technology, and strategic partnerships that work together to connect millions of people with expert advice. Through premium content and personalized digital experiences, Red Ventures builds online journeys that help people make important decisions about their homes, health, travel, finances, education, and entertainment. Founded in 2000, Red Ventures spans five continents and employs more than 4,500 people. Red Ventures owns and operates several large digital brands including MYMOVE, CNET, Healthline Media, The Points Guy, and Bankrate.